Recommendation

For several years we have worked together with Ron Stipek . He is a veritable global player in terms of networking with specialized business partners.
His connection to science and marketing is thus unique. What benefit has the best invention, ingenious technical vision, the good concept in research and development, if it is not marketed and financed.

So we are, for example, with his partners in the United States in a constant exchange, as well with his financial partners in Europe or with his technology specialists, who are with us in a direct dialogue. His American view to develop business to make profit, is a property that we appreciate here in Germany very much.

The positioning of his business with us, is unique in this form. I have no other international business partners with this capability in mind.

I hope to continue our partnership and look forward to the successful implementation and the global market integration of our I-PAPER technology, together with his business partners in the U.S. and Europe..

Mit freundlichem Gruss / Best regards
